

State Champs Return to Council Chambers (Again!)

This is beginning to be a habit. For the sixth time under head coach Chris Roche, the Wilsonville High School boys' basketball team earned the OSAA Class 5A State Championship. To commemorate the event, Mayor Fitzgerald welcomed the team to City Council, proclaiming "Wilsonville Wildcats Week," April 3-6. The Wildcats have won the title in five of the last years it was contested, and have appeared in seven straight Championship games.

Dump Your Bulky Waste at Republic Services on May 6

Republic Services and the City of Wilsonville are hosting a Bulky Waste Day event on Saturday, May 6, 9 am-1 pm, at Republic Services (10295 SW Ridder Rd.) in Wilsonville.

Dispose of large or unusual items that cannot be picked up curbside. Proof of Wilsonville residence is required to participate; there is no charge.

Instead, the City asks participants to donate gift cards from local merchants in small denominations ($5-20) to help Wilsonville Community Sharing provide critical assistance to local families in need.

Gift card donations are to be dropped upon entry, after which vehicles are weighed and guided to disposal bays. Participants should only bring items that can be unloaded without staff assistance. Bulky Waste Day accepts dishwashers, televisions, refrigerators, computers, monitors, stoves, dryers, water heaters, couches, mattresses, scrap metal, tables and chairs, and clean, untreated wood. All fuel must be emptied from gas-powered yard tools. The program does not accept construction debris of any type, propane bottles or canisters, paint, batteries, solvents, thinners, household garbage, car tires, or yard debris. For more information contact Matt Baker, City Public Works Supervisor, at mbaker@ci.wilsonville.or.us, 503-570-1548.

Mayor's Message

Gratitude for the Essential Contributions of Volunteers

Since filing as a candidate for mayor in advance of the 2020 election, I've spoken countless times about my desire to get more people involved in local government. You can expect that I'll continue to raise the subject as long as I have the pleasure of serving our community.

I believe that the more diversity we bring into local leadership — and I use the term diversity broadly here to include a wide variety of professional skillsets, lived experiences, educational backgrounds, stages of life, income brackets, etc. — the more we ensure that our programs, events, policies and projects meet the needs of everyone.

Currently, we rely on the selfless, incalculable contributions of about 80 community members who serve on the City's Boards & Commissions. Their influence touches nearly every aspect of the City's operations — budgeting; land use; planning; cultural exchange program; arts and culture; tourism; parks and recreation programs; library services; diversity, equity and inclusion, and community improvements.

In short, their contributions to our success are essential.

Beyond those serving on our boards, the City relies on another 200+ individuals volunteering in other capacities, including removing invasive plants from our parks, re-shelving library books, cleaning up roadways, planting trees, preparing and delivering meals, and so much more.

I strongly encourage anyone with a passion for Wilsonville to get involved, either through City channels, or by contacting your favorite service organization and asking how you can help.

If you don't know where to start, I recommend the Civics Academy, the City's annual "local government 101" program. It provides a great overview of how our City functions, and where opportunities exist to make a difference.

I've spoken to many people at volunteer appreciation events, board retreats, City events and elsewhere, and I never tire of hearing what inspires their service. Hearing anecdotes about how and why people choose to become more involved is one of the best parts of the job. Everyone has a unique and personal reason for volunteering.

Thank you to everyone who has donated time — thousands of hours collectively each year — to enrich and support City programs and events. And thanks also to others who are sharing their light to support youth sports organizations, churches, and community organizations.

Volunteer service is at the heart of what makes our community special. Thank you to everyone who generously gives their time on Wilsonville's behalf. You are unsung heroes whose contributions make our community a friendlier and more cohesive place.

Library Foundation Purchases Geochron, a Digital World Map

A Geochron is a constantly-changing world map that allows observers to determine the time, sunrise, sunset and other information about the Earth, in real-time, anywhere in the world. One is now on permanent display at the Wilsonville Library.

In past decades, the Geochron was a belt-driven map that moved slowly by a motor and gears in synch with the rotation of the Earth and the changing of seasons.

Considered a prestige accessory, a Geochron was gifted from President Ronald Reagan to Secretary Mikhail Gorbachev on the occasion of their inaugural summit in 1985.

Today, instead of gears and belts, the Geochron's function has been reproduced by software and an internet connection, which makes the educational tool less expensive, much larger, and with the capacity to share many items of interest.

For example, users can monitor the Earth's earthquake activity in real-time, or view of the Earth's surface from the International Space Station, which orbits Earth 16 times each day at more than 17,000 miles per hour.

The Library's Geochron was a gift to the Library from the Wilsonville Public Library Foundation, which has promoted and supported excellence at the Wilsonville Library for more than 20 years. Learn more at wplf.org.

Library Tiny Art Show Celebrates Three Youth Winners

The Wilsonville Library's first Tiny Art Show unearthed scores of fabulous local artists, who were handed blank 3"x3" canvases at the Library and returned with inspired artistic creations.

Last month's Boones Ferry Messenger featured the winners from among 75 canvasses painted by teens and adults. Winners were determined in a vote of library patrons.

This month, we feature the "best in show" from three youth categories. Overwhelming response required that the Library split the judging into two viewings.

These winners were selected by judges from among 70 kids' entries displayed at the Library.

The Tiny Art Contest was sponsored by the Wilsonville Public Library Foundation.

Drinking Water Week, May 7-13, Recognizes Regional Providers

You turn on the tap, and the water's there. Easy, right?

Water providers across the region, including the Willamette River Water Treatment Plant (WRWTP), work around the clock, every day, to make sure water is always there when you need it.

May 7-13 is Drinking Water Week, an opportunity to highlight the quality of our region's water, the infrastructure needed to deliver water from the source to your home or business, and the people who make it happen.

The WRWTP serves the communities of Wilsonville and Sherwood. Day-to-day operation of the Plant is performed under contract by Veolia Water North America under the guidance of Wilsonville's Public Works department.

The City of Wilsonville is a member of the Regional Water Providers Consortium, a group of 25 area water providers that have worked together for the past 26 years to provide leadership in the planning, management, stewardship, and resiliency of drinking water in the greater Portland area.

Attend Documentary Screening of "The Slow Way Home"

In Japan, 98 percent of children in Japan walk to school; in the United States, only 13 percent travel to school on foot.

What can we do to have more kids walk to school and reduce reliance on automobiles?

Join us for a showing of the documentary "The Slow Way Home," which looks at how students travel to school in Japan and the U.S., why so few children walk to school in America, and what can be done to change that.

Jessy Lee, Jules Moody and Jenelle Reid organize training events for more 1,000 runners in the Portland-metro area.

Sole Sisters to Host June Race at Memorial Park

If you're out early on a Saturday morning in spring, you might spot them. Dozens of women of all ages, shapes, sizes, and athletic abilities, clad in sporting gear, running, jogging, and walking together along Wilsonville's streets and trails.

Meet the Sole Sisters, a sisterhood of exercise, support, and friendship.

What started in 2008 as three girlfriends from Wilsonville training for their first half marathon has grown by word of mouth to include more than 1,000 members in 10 different locations from Vancouver to Salem.

Participants include seasoned runners working to better their marathon times, casual joggers taking on their first 5K, and walkers looking for an encouraging exercise buddy.

Wilsonville resident Stevie Luplow was seeking accountability four years ago; she joined Sole Sisters after seeing the group out on the trails.

"I'm a pretty slow walker so I wasn't sure if it was for me," Luplow said. "But the other women were so warm and encouraging that I didn't want to stop."

Luplow, 38, has since walked three Sole Sisters 5k

Slow Wildfires: Use Fire-Resilient Plants, Build Defensible Space

With warmer weather on the way, it's a good time to consider how to protect your home from wildfire danger. Wilsonville Ready offers some proactive steps to protect your home.

Buy fire-resilient plants

Fire-resilient plants don't ignite easily. They can be damaged or ruined by fire, but their foliage and stems do not significantly add to a fire's intensity.

Generally, these plants have moist, supple leaves and no dead wood or materials within the plant. They also have low or water-like sap without a strong smell. Deciduous trees like oaks and maple trees, which lose their leaves at the end of their growing season, are examples of fire-resilient plants. Annuals and lawns can also be fire-resistant if properly watered and maintained.

Oregon State University Extension Service offers resources on creating landscape and plants that are fire-resistant. So do most local nurseries.

Avoid planting (and/or remove) any highly flammable plants directly around your home. These can generally be identified by fine, dry, dead leaves or needles. They typically have gummy, resinous sap and their leaves, stems, and twigs contain oils and wax that can catch fire. Their sap and leaves have a strong smell. Juniper is an example of a highly-flammable plant commonly found in landscaping.

Create defensible space

When performing landscape maintenance tasks, our partners at Tualatin Valley Fire and Rescue (TVF&R) recommend creating defensible space and defensible landscaping to reduce the spread of wildfire. Remove tree branches within six feet of the ground and cut back branches that hang over your roof, shed, or patio cover. Remove dead plants, grass, weeds, and store firewood at least 30 feet from buildings and decks. If you have grass or lawn, mow grass and fields to no more than four inches high in areas within 30 feet of buildings and decks.

For more resources, tips, and tools on wildfires and other emergency preparedness topics, go online at wilsonvilleReady.org.

"I even tried running for part of last year's event!" she said.

Jules Moody, one of Sole Sisters' original founders, says that inspiring that sense of inclusion and accomplishment in other women keeps her on the job.

"We are about celebration not competition," Moody said. "Our groups are diverse, inclusive, and fun."

Sole Sisters has sponsored races in Wilsonville since their start, but this year's Sole Sisters Half Marathon, 10k and 5k on June 3 will look and feel a bit different.

The course, designed by Sole Sister coach Jessy Lee, is mostly flat. The out and back route winds through the trail system behind Memorial Park and along scenic side streets.

"It is going to be really beautiful," Lee said.

This is also the first year Sole Sisters is offering a timed-race option, though Lee doesn't expect that to alter the unique feeling runners experience at the finish line.

"I've run lot of other races where the finish feels lonely and anti-climactic," Lee said. "But finishing a race with all the women you trained with every Saturday morning feels different. It's an amazing atmosphere."

Training for the 2023 season began in late March; women are invited to join at any time. The Wilsonville group meets at Boeckman Creek Primary School every Saturday at 7:50 am to stretch; and hits the road at 8 am sharp, rain or shine. Participation is free and coffee, provided by J Hill Property Group, is available after the run.

Walk & Roll to School May 3

SMART is encouraging Wilsonville schools to plan events that promote walking and rolling on May 3, and throughout the month of May.

Organize a walking school bus, a school activity about pedestrian and bike safety, or create a bicycling group.

National Bike+Roll to School Day is Wednesday, May 3. To celebrate the SMART Bike Fairies will be visiting Wilsonville schools.

The bicycle fairies anonymously leave fairy bags on bicycles that include safety items such as reflective shoe laces and reflective stickers for helmets. It's a small, but mighty, year-round incentive — to keep students excited, motivated, and encouraged to ride to school!

Walk at Lunch Returns May 3

On Wednesdays, from May through September, SMART staff lead a 30 minute walk throughout different locations in Wilsonville.

Walk at Lunch is designed to complement a busy lifestyle to improve personal health and build communities.

Each walk departs promptly at noon and is completed no later than 1 pm. No registration required for these events, just show up and walk SMART with us!

A different business partner sponsors each walk, giving participants an opportunity to learn more about these small businesses.. Find our full summer schedule at RideSMART.com/walkatlunch.

Learning to Ride a Bike = Success!

During Spring Break, SMART hosted a week-long clinic at Wood Middle School to teach students 5-to-11-years old how to ride a bike.

The bike clinic provided an effective, low-stress way for kids to learn to ride while providing safety education and encouraging biking to school. Students learned to balance on their bikes and, when ready, learned to pedal. Many children overcame their fear of falling and were quite happy once they were able to bicycle on their own.

Bike riding is a skill that provides many benefits. It is a fun and free activity that children can enjoy with friends and family for life. It also helps keep kids mentally and physically active, improves gross motor skills, and it's good for the environment.

Underground Water Pipeline Construction Begins on SW 95th Ave.

The Willamette Water Supply Program (WWSP) has begun a project to underground a segment of water pipeline along SW 95th Ave.

This installation is the first phase of a plan to install water pipeline from just south of Wilsonville Road to Garden Acres Road. The project area extends from Hillman Ct. to Ridder Rd.

Initially, this phase of construction was scheduled to occur on SW Kinsman Rd. Because of seasonal groundwater conditions, a change was made to keep the project moving quickly. Pipeline construction along Kinsman Rd. is now scheduled to begin in late summer or early fall.

Anticipate Delays on SW 95th Ave.

During construction on SW 95th Ave., traffic is being detoured around the work zone to Boones Ferry Road. Flaggers and signage are being used to minimize the disruption and to ensure the safety of the traveling public. SMART bus stops may be closed, as needed, for safety. Access for cyclists and pedestrians is being maintained.

Work is scheduled from 7 am-5 pm daily through September.

Additionally, work is in progress to complete a trenchless pipeline installation at Wilsonville Rd, and Kinsman Rd. Tunneling beneath SW Wilsonville Rd. is anticipated to continue for a few months.

This project is being completed in two phases to maximize safety, minimize traffic, and reduce disruptions in the area. The two-year project includes street improvements along the project alignment.

Overnight Camping Code Revisions Drafted, to be Considered for Adoption By City Council in May

A project led by the City Attorney's office to revise the City's overnight camping code as required by new Oregon law is nearly complete.

Ordinance 879, to be considered by the City Council at public hearing on May 1, establishes reasonable guidelines that restrict how, when and where camping is to be allowed within City limits. A set of administrative rules, scheduled for consideration on May 15, designate areas where camping is to be allowed. If adopted, all new regulations will have an effective date of July 1, 2023, to comply with State mandates.

Informed by a public survey, as well as conversations with law enforcement, elected officials, concerned residents, people experiencing homelessness, social service providers and partners in local governance, the City's guidelines, once approved, would establish the following:

- Overnight camping is only to be allowed between the hours of 9 pm and 7 am.
- Camping is prohibited on private property, public right-of-ways, and all City-owned property that has not been designated.
- Fires, debris, unleashed animals, drug use, and alcohol are among items prohibited.
- Storage of personal property outside of designated camping areas and outside the allowed time frame will be prohibited.
- Per State law, 72 hours' notice is to be provided before campers may be lawfully removed.

Per the administrative rules, a portion of the City Hall parking lot is to be designated to host vehicle campers, when necessary. A small portion of the City-owned property immediately to the north of the City Hall parking lot will be designated for non-vehicle campers, when necessary. These areas are to be patrolled by law enforcement and social service specialists, and will include sanitary facilities.

"The City Council and an inter-departmental team have worked diligently over the last year to find solutions that address the state mandates and that respond to the relatively small number of Wilsonville residents who are experiencing homelessness," said City Attorney Amanda Guile-Hinman.

She noted that similar code revisions are taking place at virtually every City in Oregon to meet the State's July 1 deadline, and acknowledged that camping for survival is not the solution to end homelessness.

"The City is committed to working with County governments and private service providers to find long-term, sustainable solutions for those experiencing homelessness," Guile-Hinman said.

W.E.R.K. Day (and Goat Petting!) on May 6

W.E.R.K. Day returns Saturday, May 6. Volunteers take part in parks-based projects in Memorial Park, such as bark dusting and invasive species removal, from 9 am-11 am. Goat petting is offered from 10 am to noon. The goats, contracted through Westside Goat Gals, are doing parks work of their own by eating their way through invasive blackberry. Pre-registration is encouraged for W.E.R.K. Day, which includes a complementary breakfast, 8-9 am at the Wilsonville Community Center. Breakfast is provided by the Wilsonville Rotary Club.

Register at WilsonvilleParksandRec.com using course #10717. No registration needed for goat petting.

Spring Provides Options for May Yoga Classes

Yoga can improve strength, balance and flexibility, and also aid in stress relief and mindfulness. Wilsonville Parks and Rec is excited to offer three yoga classes beginning in May.

"Gentle Yoga" progresses through poses slowly; most poses can be completed in a chair or a yoga mat. Designed for all abilities and experience levels, the class includes modifications and options for different levels. This class takes place on Thursdays, beginning May 11. The 8:30 am class costs $64 for 8 sessions.

Experience mindful and engaging movement with "Gentle Flow Yoga". The class cultivates peace, calm, confidence and awareness of the mind-body connection. Participants create new muscle memory patterns in their body with a series of poses followed by relaxing in a self-nurturing Savasana. The class is open to participants over the age of 13. It meets on Tuesdays, beginning May 9. Class start time is 7:15 pm; the $77 cost includes eight sessions.

"Restorative Yoga" allows participants to slow down, rest their mind, and nurture their nervous system. The class brings participants from action to stillness, and encourages them to settle in with guided meditation followed by intentional time in supportive resting poses. The class is also open to those 13 and older. It begins on Thursday, May 11, at 7:15 pm. The $77 cost covers eight sessions.

All classes take place at the Wilsonville Community Center. Registration is available at WilsonvilleParksandRec.com. Can't commit to the whole session? Drop-in for any class for $10.

Disco Fever! Attend Family Dance on June 2

Grab the special kiddos in your life and join Wilsonville Parks and Recreation for a night of disco, dancing, and prizes at the Stein-Boozier Barn! The dance runs from 7 to 9 pm and features prize giveaways, a live deejay, photo booth, and snacks! Bring a donation for the Oregon Dog Rescue and get an additional prize ticket! Cost is $20 per person. Reserve your spot WilsonvilleParksandRec.com. Don't wait; this event is likely to sell out!

POLICE CHIEF'S CORNER

A Few Common Sense Reminders to Keep You Safe Behind the Wheel

As weather (hopefully) begins to improve, more drivers are out on the roads.

While I would prefer sharing positive news, I think it's important to talk about traffic fatalities.

According to the National Highway Traffic Administration (NHTSA), which just released its 2021 report, someone dies in a traffic crash about every 15 minutes on U.S. roadways.

The NHTSA's report says 42,939 people lost their lives in traffic crashes in 2021. That's the highest number since 2005, and represents a 10-percent increase from 2020.

Police Chief Rob Wurpes

Traffic safety should be a critical concern for everyone who travels on U.S. roadways. Unfortunately, these latest statistics indicate otherwise.

To ensure that you and your loved ones stay safe on the road, it's essential to maintain good driving habits.

First and foremost, always wear your seat belt. The NHTSA reports that not buckling up increased fatalities by 8.1 percent in 2021.

Another crucial safety measure is to avoid speeding. Speed-related fatalities increased by 7.9 percent in 2021, making it clear that driving too fast can have severe consequences. Obey posted speed limits and adjust your driving speed according to road conditions and weather.

Alcohol-impaired driving is also a significant contributor, increasing fatalities by 14 percent. If you plan to drink, have a designated driver or use a ride-sharing service to get home safely. SMART transit can also be a good option. The consequences, which include severe penalties, are just not worth it.

Be aware of your surroundings and avoid distractions—particularly your cell phone. Distracted driving is a leading cause of accidents, so it's crucial to keep your attention focused on the road. Put your phone away, avoid eating or drinking while driving, and stay alert to other drivers' actions.

While the statistics from the NHTSA are sobering, these common-sense safety tips greatly reduce your risk. Remember, every driver and passenger plays a role in making U.S. roadways safer.

Chief Rob Wurpes

City Crews to Flush Water Mains; Rust-Colored Water May Appear

Public Works utility crews are scheduled to begin the annual flushing of the City's water mains.

This process scours out mineral deposits to ensure optimal water quality and helps to maintain the City's infrastructure by exercising hydrants, valves and blow-off assemblies and verifying their operability.

Water flushed from fire hydrants often appears to be orange or rust-colored. The discoloration is caused by iron deposits that are stirred up and removed during the flushing process.

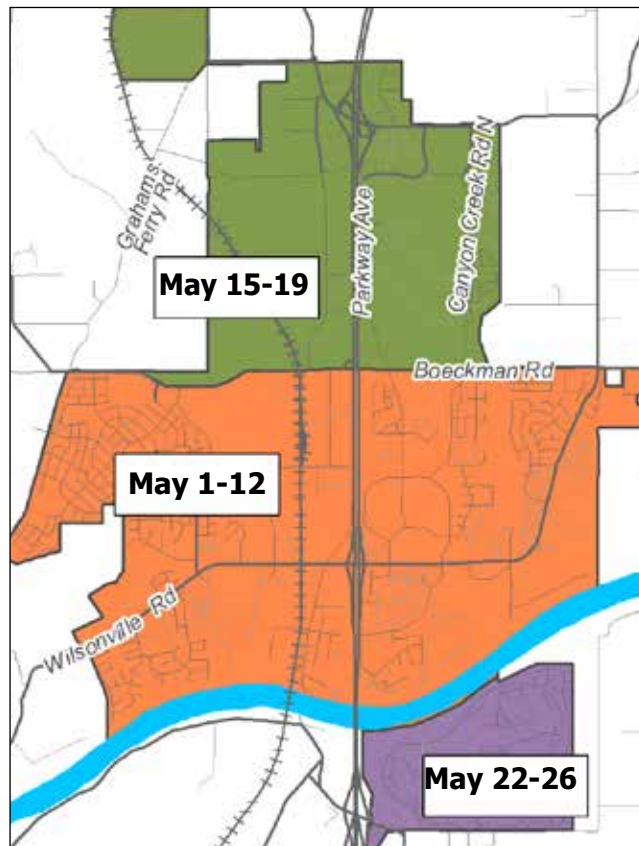

After flushing occurs, you may notice discolored water inside your home. This water has been fully disinfected and poses no health risk if consumed.

If you observe discolored water, the following steps are recommended:

- Run your cold water fixtures for several minutes.
- Flush your toilets multiple times.

Typically, water begins to run clear within minutes. Avoid washing light-colored laundry during and immediately after lines are flushed, as discolored water may cause these items to stain. Continue running cold water until the discoloration has cleared before washing light-colored laundry.

If you observe crews flushing in your area, please share the roadway to give them room to work safely. If you have any questions or concerns regarding the City's annual water main flushing, please call the Public Works Department at 503-682-4092.

The City's 2023 schedule for water main flushing:
 Zone 1 (orange), May 1-12;
 Zone 2 (green), May 15-19;
 Zone 3 (purple), May 22-26.

Get the Guidance to Build a Habitat-Friendly Garden

Wilsonville homeowners who enjoy watching the birds and the bees, and who want to support pollinator habitat in their own home gardens, can sign up for the Backyard Habitat Certification Program (BHCP).

More than 10,400 homes in the Portland-metro area have committed to gardening sustainably and supporting wildlife by joining the program, a partnership of Columbia Land Trust and Portland Audubon.

The BHCP provides resources, tools, and discounts to people who want to improve wildlife habitat in their yards, garden naturally, control problematic weeds, and manage stormwater. The program is available to anyone caring for small lots (under one acre), and also is provided to schools, community groups, apartment buildings, public institutions, and businesses with no size restriction.

Those who enroll are visited by a Habitat Technician, who recommends beneficial native plants and other features that attract and support birds, pollinators and other wildlife. After the visit, the technician sends a personalized site report with recommendations tailored to the participant's yard and interests. Other perks — such as coupons for local garden centers, follow-up assistance, invitations to open garden tours and yard signs — are also provided.

Sustainable home gardens make a real difference to the health and vitality of our region. The BHCP partners with communities to plant roots, create habitats and transform the world ... one yard at a time.

Generous support from the Clackamas Soil and Water Conservation District and the City of Wilsonville is making the program possible locally.

To enroll or learn more about the Backyard Habitat Certification Program please visit backyardhabitats.org.

THE MAINSTREAMING OF ANTISEMITISM IN AMERICA

More than one-third of Americans don't know what antisemitism is, at a time when hostility and discrimination against Jewish people is on the rise. This program explores the evolution of antisemitism, how it is being normalized in America, and why it is often overlooked or dismissed by diversity, equity and inclusion (DEI) programs.

City’s 2023-24 FY Budget to be Considered for Adoption This Month

Three Public meetings are scheduled this month for the Budget Committee to review the City’s Proposed Budget for FY 2023-24. Meetings are scheduled May 17, May 18 and May 23 (if needed); all meetings begin at 6 pm at City Hall Council Chambers. The 10-member Budget Committee includes five City Councilors and five resident volunteers. The Committee reviews the budget with City staff, hears public testimony and deliberates until a final budget is to the City Council for adoption at the first June meeting. Assistive Listening Devices (ALD), qualified sign language interpreters, and/or qualified bilingual interpreters may be obtained. Please contact the City Recorder, 503-570-1506 or cityrecorder@ci.wilsonville.or.us within 48 hours of the scheduled meeting time. Review the draft 2023-24 budget online at ci.wilsonville.or.us/budget. For more information, contact Keith Katko, Finance Director, at 503-570-1516, katko@ci.wilsonville.or.us. Wastewater Treatment Plant Plan Delayed The City of Wilsonville is updating its Wastewater Treatment Plant Master Plan. Public hearings have been delayed; the plan is to be considered by the Planning Commission on July 12, and by the City Council on Aug. 7 and Aug. 21. The Plan details improvements designed to provide optimal value to the City’s ratepayers by maximizing the use of existing infrastructure and improving system operation while continuing to protect water quality and human health and supporting economic development, consistent with goals and policies contained in the 2018 Comprehensive Plan and 2021-2023 City Council Goals. The plan is available for review and comment at LetsTalkWilsonville.com.

Councilor Linville Appointed to State Opioid Settlement Board

Wilsonville City Councilor Joann Linville has been appointed by Governor Tina Kotek to the State’s Opioid Settlement Treatment and Recovery Board (OSPTR Board). An interim term begins immediately; Linville is to be re-appointed next year to a full four-year term that extends through 2027. The (OSPTR Board) is charged with determining how to allocate the State’s portion of Oregon’s opioid settlement funds. The OSPTR Board’s role and membership were established by the Oregon State Legislature in March 2022 through House Bill 4098. The Oregon Health Authority provides staff support and works with OSPTR Board members to convene and organize monthly Board meetings. Generally, funds allocated by the board are to support evidence-based or evidence-informed programs within the state or region that advance opioid prevention, research and public education and/or support patient care and recovery. ## Notable Actions: City Boards and Commissions

City Council	Action	What it Means
April 3	The Council authorized an agreement to fund the purchase of a 2.93-acre property from the West Linn-Wilsonville School District.	The property is the future site of a future neighborhood park in the Frog Pond West neighborhood,
April 3	The Council adopted two-year goals and strategies established with staff during a two-day work retreat in February.	These goals guide how staff and Council prioritize the delivery of programs and services for the community’s benefit.
April 3	To expand the fiber optic infrastructure network in Wilsonville and neighboring Sherwood, the Council authorized an intergovernmental agreement with the City of Sherwood.	The agreement facilitates collaboration on a project funded by the federal America Rescue Plan Act. Notably, the project is providing public Wi-Fi access for visitors Town Center Park and Murase Plaza.
April 3	The Council endorsed a prioritized list of about 40 City of Wilsonville and South Metro Area Regional Transit (SMART) projects to be shared with Metro to inform the agency’s Regional Transportation Plan (RTP).	The RTP guides long-term investments in the metro-area’s transportation system for all forms of travel. Projects in the RTP are eligible to receive federal and state funding to reduce the funding burden for priority transportation and transit projects.
April 3	The Council also approved an amended employment agreement with Municipal Court Judge Weinhouse.	The agreement provides an increased hourly wage that is commensurate with his skills and experience.
March 20	The Council approved an intergovernmental agreement and memorandum of understanding with Tri-County Metropolitan Transportation District of Oregon (TriMet).	If adopted by TriMet, these agreements would remove unserved City of Wilsonville properties from TriMet’s boundaries and explain the process for petitioning TriMet to withdraw areas within the Wilsonville urban growth boundary in 2026, the next available petition cycle.
March 20	To fund the development of a three-acre future park property in the Frog Pond West neighborhood and other unanticipated expenditures, the Council approved a $4.6 million supplemental budget adjustment.	This action is required by local budget law.
March 20, April 3	The Council took two actions to annex and rezone approximately 9.63 acres at 25540 SW Garden Acres Road.	These actions allow Precision Countertops to advance the development of a new corporate headquarters/fabrication facility within the Coffee Creek Industrial Area.
March 20	The Council authorized a $500,000 agreement with Water Systems Consulting, Inc. (WSC) to provide engineering assistance.	This allows the City to advance several scheduled Capital Improvement Program (CIP) projects otherwise jeopardized by a temporary staff labor shortage.
March 20	The Council approved an agreement with several Clackamas County cities that – in the event of an emergency – allows participating cities to share personnel who may be otherwise unable to report to work.	Because the skills, experience and duties of municipal employees are transferable, the agreement allows public employees to provide better assistance to the greater community within the emergency command structure.
March 20	The Council authorized the City Manager to enter a master license and right-of-way use agreement with New Cingular Wireless PCS.	This allows small wireless facilities to be located within the public right-of-way in exchange for a $12,000 fee. Siting individual small wireless facilities will still require submitting an application to the City.

Annual Backflow Assembly Tests Required Before June 30

Water customers who own backflow assemblies must have an annual required test completed before June 30. Residents are sent a reminder notice that details how to schedule a test and explains the importance of administering the program, which protects the water quality for Wilsonville residential and commercial customers in accordance with State law and the City Code (Chapter 3.1). A yellow box on the notice highlights the testing deadline and other important details. The City’s online system allows certified assembly testers to enter inspection results into the City’s backflow database using a unique TRAC # located on the notice. The TRAC # gives testers information about the assembly(ies) at your location, such as make, model, and serial number, but does not identify individuals or provide contact information at the associated address. A link to certified testers is included on the annual reminder notice. When scheduling a test, provide your TRAC # (unchanged from last year) and advise your tester that the City only accepts electronic test reports through the EcosConnect system. Paper reports are not accepted. After results are submitted, customers are provided a copy of results from tester. Backflow prevention assemblies are installed to prevent backflow of contaminants into drinking water through cross-connections, including irrigation systems, wells, fire sprinklers, boilers, pools and hot tubs. Administering this program ensures high-quality drinking water for our community. To learn more, visit ci.wilsonville.or.us/backflow.

City Budget Receives Distinguished Presentation Award for 25th Year Running

For the 25th consecutive year, the Government Finance Officers Association of the United States and Canada (GFOA) has recognized the City of Wilsonville Finance Department with the “Distinguished Budget Presentation Award” for the fiscal year 2022-23 budget document. The recognition reflects the commitment of the City Finance staff to meet the highest principles of governmental budgeting standards. To qualify, a budget document must be rated proficient as a policy document, a financial plan, an operations guide and a communications device; additionally, it must satisfy 14 mandatory criteria within those four categories. “This award demonstrates the hard work put in by the City’s Finance department to effectively present the City’s budget to the community year after year,” City Manager Bryan Cosgrove said.

Enroll by May 31, and you’ll be eligible to win one of four $25 gift cards!

Public Works Complex on Boberg St. Begins to Take Shape

First identified as a priority project in the 2015 Facilities Master Plan, the City’s new Public Works Complex is now under construction on SW Boberg Rd.

When complete, the facility will centralize maintenance operations, provide adequate fleet and warehouse storage, accommodate future growth and provide an emergency operations center.

July Opening Planned for Korean War Memorial Interpretive Center

The Korean War Memorial Foundation of Oregon’s Interpretive Committee expects the new Korean War Memorial Interpretive Center to be substantially complete by the end of July.

The exhibit, located within the Parks & Recreation Admin. Building, is being designed and installed by Portland-based Formations, Inc.

The upper windows and wall space are to feature photos of Oregonians when they were serving in Korea. A topographical map of Korea displays significant battles. Wall panels feature stories of Oregonians who received the Medal of Honor and those taken as prisoners of war.

Items used by soldiers during the war will be displayed. Guests will be able to view first-hand accounts of 24 Korean War veterans in Korean and/or English. The stories of other Oregon veterans are being made available on flip cards so that guests can read their stories.

An event is tentatively scheduled for Saturday, July 29, at 10 am to commemorate the signing of the Armistice to end the Korean War, the 70th anniversary of the alliance between the U.S. and the Republic of Korea, and to celebrate the grand opening of the Oregon Korean War Memorial Interpretive Center. More information is to be provided soon.

Honorary Consul Greg Caldwell Honored

Greg Caldwell, Honorary Consul for the Republic of Korea in Northern Oregon, has been awarded “The Order of the Diplomatic Service Merit Changui Medal” by the President of Korea.

One of the highest civilian awards of South Korea, the award recognizes outstanding meritorious services in the interest of enhancing national prestige and promoting amity with allies.”

Eunji Seo, the Consulate General of the Republic of Korea in Seattle, presented the award at a dinner of appreciation for Peace Corps Korea volunteers who lived and worked in Korea between 1966 and 1981.

The medal presentation included an impressive citation in both Korean and English and by a Presidential wristwatch. The citation noted Caldwell’s honor was “in recognition of and appreciation for his outstanding and meritorious services rendered toward the promotion of friendly relations between the Republic of Korea and the United States of America...by the President of Korea.”

Mechanical Engineering Student Thriving with OIT Relationships, Resources

After graduating with an associate degree in Mathematics from College of the Redwoods in Northern California, Jema Matthews wanted to move to a bigger, urban setting to study mechanical engineering.

Matthews transferred to the Oregon Tech Portland-Metro campus in Wilsonville after hearing about the school’s great machine shop and engineering program. Now a senior, Matthews has benefited from the resources and industry relationships.

“I have met so many interesting, knowledgeable people that have really enriched my learning experience,” she said.

Matthews would like to work in aerospace manufacturing as an engineer or as a project manager when she finishes her studies, and she uses Oregon Tech’s Canyon Creek Facility in Wilsonville to get hands-on shop experience.

“The shop is open to all students — not just engineers — and a great place to work on any and all projects,” Matthews said.

The facility has a variety of equipment, including mills, lathes, saws, metal fabrication equipment, and a large assortment of mechanic and electrician tools.

Matthews has gained work experience through an internship at Shields Manufacturing, where she has been working since 2021.

“I have had a wonderful experience at Shields as an engineer, working every day with people on the floor, problem-solving,” she said.

As a co-leader of the company’s continuous improvement initiative, Matthews has identified a possible career path.

“I want to work with people and possibly work in continuous improvement, where small steps can be made that have a profound effect on a company’s culture, and work environment,” Matthews said.

High School Coach Named First Citizen

Tammy Sue Bradley, who coaches girls soccer and softball teams at Wilsonville High School, has been selected as the Rotary Club of Wilsonville’s First Citizen of 2022. The announcement was made at the Wilsonville Rotary’s annual Heart of Gold dinner and auction on April 6.

Wilsonville High School Athletic Director Josh Davis was one of several to nominate Bradley, calling her “an integral part of Wilsonville High (who) only wants what is best for our school, students and community.”

Other finalists for the award were Casey Carpenter, a firefighter for Tualatin Valley Fire & Rescue; Greg Artman, a local photographer; Molly Kalekilo, owner of Innovative Dance.

COUNCILOR’S CORNER: Kristin Akervall

Reviewing The City Budget is Where the Action Is (Really!)

While calling out ideas to my family for this column, I asked “Think I can write an article about city budgeting that doesn’t make people’s eyes glaze over?”

My husband, an optimist, doesn’t think even half of you will finish this column. Take that as a challenge.

Projects seldom happen without money, so approving the annual budget each May is actually one of the most important decisions City leadership makes on behalf of the community. How we allocate our limited resources is a reflection of our City values, and a snapshot of our shortcomings and our triumphs. It holds all the action.

So let this serve as your trailer for the excitement that is to come over the next few weeks.

Akervall

The scene:

The City’s budget is a financial plan for the next fiscal year, which is the period between July 1 of this year and June 30 of next year. Over several months, the City’s Finance staff works with each department to collect information and build the draft budget for review. After the budget is examined by the Budget Committee and adopted by the City Council, the City has authority to receive money (i.e. resources or revenues) and spend money (i.e. expenses). To be balanced, the budget’s revenues and expenses must be equal.

The players:

Ten people serve on our Budget Committee — all five City Councilors and five additional volunteer community members. We thoroughly read the document, ask questions of the City’s executive team and finance staff, discuss any concerns or disagreements, and eventually recommend a final budget for the City Council to adopt.

The drama:

Yes, some budget meetings are rather dry, but group decision can be messy. Because we all have different perspectives, we must look for ways to collaborate and ground truths in our discussion. This is why we rely on data.

Our budget document is full of juicy bits of data. In fact, I view it as one-part financial plan, one-part fact book, and one-part pretty pictures of Wilsonville. (Thank you to everyone who submitted photos to help illustrate our budget!) The data helps us test our assumptions, avoid bias, develop trust, and make decisions that are sustainable. We are examining what the data describes for the level of services provided by the city, thinking about the needs of the community, and considering if the budget supports our vision for Wilsonville.

As you can probably tell, I really enjoy the budget process. If you’ve read this far, maybe you’ll be interested as well. Our meetings take place at 6 pm on May 17 and 18 at City Hall. Budget Meetings are open to the public and can be watched online.

If you want to look at the draft budget with us, you’ll find it on the City’s website (at ci.wilsonville.or.us/budget) in advance of the meetings.

A gold sticker if you read this far. But know, the best reward is a stable, safe, and productive community — exactly what we are all working towards in the budgeting process.

Kristin Akervall was elected to the Wilsonville Council in 2016. She has served as Council President since 2019.

Third Annual Juneteenth Celebration Set for June 17 at Town Center Park

Wilsonville's third-annual Juneteenth Celebration is set to take place at Town Center Park on Saturday, June 17, from noon to 3 pm.

Presented by the City's Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Committee, the event is designed to bring people of all races, nationalities and religions together to celebrate our shared humanity and acknowledge history that continues to influence society today.

This year's event includes a keynote address from Pamela Slaughter, the Executive Director of the Portland-area non-profit People of Color Outdoors.

Juneteenth Celebration
Sat., June 17, noon-3 pm
Town Center Park

Free food, drink and other giveaways are to be provided while supplies last.

The event is made possible by the generous support of Wilsonville businesses, including Swire Coca-Cola, the Oregon Institute of Technology and the Hilton Garden Inn.

Juneteenth is believed to be the nation's oldest nationally-celebrated commemoration of the ending of slavery. In 1866, Texans celebrated the first anniversary of the day word arrived in Galveston on June 19, 1865, that slavery had been abolished. The anniversary is marked by community celebrations throughout the United States.

historically marginalized segments of our population.

The series continues at 6:30 pm on May 4 at the Charbonneau Country Club with "The Mainstreaming of Antisemitism in America," presented by Bob Horenstein of the Jewish Federation of Greater Portland

This workshop explores what antisemitism is and isn't, how it has evolved, and how it is being normalized in America. It also considers why antisemitism is often overlooked or dismissed by those working in diversity, equity and inclusion.

The event is free to attend. The series is funded by a Community Opportunity Grant from the Parks & Recreation Department.

CREST Plant Pre-Sale Now Open to Entire Wilsonville Community

The CREST Plant Sale is back this year! Participants can buy vegetables and flowers for the season while supporting hands-on agriculture education in the West Linn-Wilsonville School District.

All plants have been raised from seed to start by WLWV students. To review plans and/or pre-order, visit the CREST website: wlwvcrest.myshopify.com

Pre-orders must be submitted by May 7. Plant Sale purchases may be picked up on May 12 (3:30 to 6:30 pm) or May 13 (9:30 am-2:30 pm).

CREST — Center for Research in Environmental Sciences and Technologies — is an environmental education center operated by the West Linn-Wilsonville School District.

Visit OIT's IdeaFest on May 31

IdeaFest 2023 is a free event that highlights Oregon Tech's many programs under one roof and demonstrates real-world, applied innovations achieved by OIT students. The program provides a sneak peek at the impact OIT students will make as they enter the regional workforce.

A visit to IdeaFest at OIT's Wilsonville campus is recommended for parents looking to inspire their children, students searching for new ideas, community members eager to discover nearby wonders, and employers looking for new talent with fresh ideas.
