New and Noteworthy

K-1

Being Frog
by April Pulley Sayre

Both informative and playful, this unique photographic look at the life of fantastic frogs contains minimal text that rhymes. A wonderful author's note at the end invokes both humor and reverence for this amazing amphibian.

You Matter
by Christian Robinson

With his quintessential whimsical art and diverse cast of characters, Robinson shows that all lives have value. Emotionally intelligent and superbly sweet, readers will see connections to themselves and others among the pages.

Our Friend Hedgehog
by Lauren Castillo

A endearing chapter book that feels like a classic! This gentle book about friendship subtly shares how our differences can become our strengths when we work together. Complete with charming endpapers where readers can trace Hedgehog's journey.

2-3

The Oldest Student: How Mary Walker Learned to Read
by Rita Lorraine Hubbard

Imagine learning to read at age 116! Full of inspiration, persistence, and grit, Mora's charming illustrations showcase the incredible biography of a woman who proved it's never too late to learn. A must read for everyone!

Fauja Singh Keeps Going: The True Story of the Oldest Person to Ever Run a Marathon
by Simran Jeet Singh

A picture book biography of a man who defied stereotypes and overcame challenges to break world records and become the first person to run a marathon at age 100. An exhilarating read!

How to Test a Friendship
by Theanne Griffith

A riddle, a magic portal, and a maker space combine for fun and friendship in this series for fans of The Magic School Bus series. Science concepts meet socioemotional learning, complete with two science activities to do at home.

4-5

Woke: A Young Poet's Call to Justice
by Mahogany L. Browne

An #ownvoice collection for young readers which shares both concepts and concerns around many aspects of social justice. A must have for read-alouds, discussion prompts, as well as for developing awareness and growth around these topics.

Prairie Lotus
by Linda Sue Park

For fans of the Little House series comes a remarkable story of a courageous girl dealing with xenophobia in the Dakota Territory of 1880. The author also shares her deeply personal inspiration for this incredibly moving novel in the end notes.

Show Me A Sign
by Ann Clare LeZotte

A beautifully woven historical novel about a Deaf community on Martha's Vineyard who used a precursor to ASL. And also a story that reflects on prejudices around both ability and race. End notes share more history of Martha's Vineyard and Deaf education.
