Adult Winter Reading Program begins January 2

This winter, read books and win prizes, including an Amazon Kindle and a “Dinner and a Movie”.

This year’s theme is “Altered States”. The timeline of human history presents innumerable crossroads, where individual actions proved decisive – perhaps even more so if these actions were altered even slightly.

This premise has proved irresistible for authors of such stature as Mark Twain, Margaret Atwood, and Ray Bradbury.

Explore a wide spectrum of genres providing unique perspectives on what our lives might look like if humanity took a different turn, or takes a dive in the future.

The fun starts Wednesday, Jan. 2. Pick up forms at the library, or download them from our website:
